'FIGHT OLD COLONY PLAN'--DEVER

RAIL PLAN PROTEST—Representative Roy W. Smith of Holbrook signs protest against abandonment of the Oold Colony Railroad to the Cape today. At hearing, Attorney-General Paul A. Dever charged New Haven railroad with "utter disregard of the law."

Urges Public Be Aroused; Cahill Seeks New Probe

Charging the trustees of the New Haven Railroad with "utter disregard of the law," Attorney-General Paul A. Dever today urged more than 200 representatives of the 47 communities served by the Old Colony Railroad to arouse South Shore public sentiment against abandonment of passenger service on the road.

As he spoke the Attorney General brandished a petition drawn in his office which would appeal to the Department of Public Utilities to open hearings on the proposed abandonment.

The New Haven trustees, he declared, had no intention of petitioning the department for permission to abandon the road, taking refuge in a federal court decision in Connecticut, but the department could and should take the initiative.

"DISRESPECT OF LAW"

"The machinery of the department should be put in motion to resist the abandonment of passenger service," Dever asserted.

"I have been reliably informed that it was the intention of the New Haven trustees not to petition the department for curtailment of this service. Five weeks have passed since the announcement of abandonment, and no petition has been filed.

"This disrespect for our law is most amazing."

Dever charged the New Haven trustees with failure to recognize that "railroad property is used for public service, and is a public trust."

"The public should not be deprived of the use of these properties," he told the packed hearing room.

Predicting that the trustees' "intention not to comply with the law" will arouse the 2,000,000 residents in the area affected by the fate of the Old Colony, Dever declared that "the Commonwealth will not tolerate it."

CAN FORCE ACTION

He circulated his petition, urging those present to sign it, then take it home and get as many signatures as possible. By a demonstration of aroused public sentiment, he explained, the Department of Public Utilities could be made to take the initiative in ordering hearings and proceeding as if the New Haven had made a formal petition for curtailment of service.

The attorney-general's stand was solidly backed by Lieut.-Gov. Horace T. Cahill, speaking as chairman of the governor's advisory

BRITAIN DISOWNS HITLER BID

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 24—The British government today formally disowned the plan of Robert S. Hudson, secretary for overseas trade, to "buy" European peace with a $5,000,000,000 international loan to Germany, but at the same time admitted it had agreed to recognize the "special requirements" of the Japanese army in China.

The government denied this meant de facto recognition of Nipponese sovereignty over conquered areas of China.

The Hudson disclaimer was left to Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax in the House of Lords, while it devolved upon Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in the House of Commons to explain what opponents of the government have characterized as a "new Munich" and an "abject surrender" by Britain in the Far East.

Chamberlain disclosed the text of the agreement reached in Tokio between Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita and British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie regarding background of the Tientsin dispute. The agreement in full states:

"His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom fully recognize the actual situation in China where hostilities on a large scale are in progress and note that as

Jump in Spy Cases Bared by Hoover

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, reported today a sharp upswing in espionage cases under investigation, in his annual report to Attorney General Murphy.

Mrs. Will Rogers Speeds Here To Aid 20 Million Pool Probe

New and surprise figure in the probe, Mrs. Will Rogers, widow of the world-famous comedian, is on her way to Boston, the Boston Evening American learned today, to be witness in the $20,000,000 fake sweepstakes, treasury number, baseball and other pools.

Mrs. Will Rogers

Also it became known that Owen D. Young, financier who was chairman of the commission to raise funds for the Will Rogers Memorial, will be a witness.

Their parts are a mystery in the long drive against racketeers which was climaxed today by opening of a federal grand jury probe here, investigation which will take in machinations of the gang through the United States and in parts of Canada.

BIGGEST PROBE OF KIND

This is the biggest investigation of its kind ever conducted in the United States, and more than 100 witnesses are under summons from all sections of the nation.

In addition to Mrs. Rogers, there were expected to testify today or tomorrow, in the earlier sessions of the inquiry, police from Detroit, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and other cities.

These officials included Boston Police Inspectors Paul Crowley and John Tobin, who worked here in conjunction with post office inspectors, and the following other officers:

Post Office Inspector Tennyson Jefferson of Boston; Post Office Inspector John J. McCarthy, in charge of the Chicago probe; Police Lieutenant Sigmund Couch of Minneapolis; Police Inspector Thompson Sterling of St. Louis.

Police Captain Charles G. Essig and Inspectors William Lawler and Joseph Keating, all of Chicago; Inspector Michael Curley of Milwaukee, Inspector Patrick McLaughlin of Indianapolis and Sergeant Thomas P. Picking and Inspector James M. Dooley, both of Detroit.

75 MAY FACE CHARGES

United States Attorney Edmund J. Brandon and Assistant Attorney Jackson J. Holtz are prosecuting and expect it is understood, that indictments will be returned against at least 70 defendants.

Before starting the probe, the grand jury viewed approximately 15 tons of fake tickets that have been seized during the long investigation.

Federal Attorney Brandon charges that tickets were sold in practically every large city of the nation and in several Canadian cities—with comparatively few payoffs made.

PROFESSOR FOUND DEAD IN SO. END

In a dramatic series of events, a nude corpse was found in a South End rooming house today, was positively identified as a professor from a Texas college, then became a mystery figure as the professor's young wife refused for a time to accept the identification.

E. M. Maisel

The body, found in a dingy Tremont street rooming house shortly after midnight, was identified as C. Stuart Johnston, 38, of El Pueblo street, Canyon, Tex., a professor in West Texas Teachers College.

A telegram announcing "Johnston's" death was sent to his wife an hour later.

On receipt of the wire, Johnston telephoned Boston police from Canyon:

"That could not possibly be my husband. He is not within 1,000 miles of Boston."

IDENTIFIED BY STUDENT

Police, making a routine investigation of the sudden death, had accepted the identification on authority of Edward M. Maisel of Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, a Harvard student.

Maisel told police he was a close friend of Johnston's, that he had seen him several times within the last two weeks, and that there could be no doubt of the identity.

Later in the day Maisel told the Boston Evening American he had phoned the professor's wife and had convinced her that it was his body.

Maisel explained that Johnston had come to Boston two weeks ago.

Asked to explain Mrs. Johnston's insistence the body could not be that of her husband, Maisel said:

"It's a private matter. I will be able to explain it all to Mrs. Johnston when she arrives, but I prefer not to discuss it at this time."

Baby's Sun Bath Stirs Row in Dorchester

Legal right of 11-months-old Bruce Bugbee Dorr of Algonquin street, Dorchester, to sun-bathe in his "birthday suit" in his own front yard became a neighborhood issue today.

Voicing an emphatic demand for young Bruce to wear at least a diaper—or take his sunshine in private—was a woman complainant who telephoned police.

She insisted the authorities take a hand to correct the "shocking" display of nudity on the Dorr premises.

It all sounded pretty awful, as the indignant woman told it, so into a cruising car piled a hurry-squad of husky Dorchester officers.

COPS FEEL SHEEPISH

They were all set to deal with a menace to the morals of the community. But when they found the unclad sun-bather was only dimpled, frolicsome, pudgy young "Brucie" Dorr, who won't be a year old until a month from this coming Wednesday they sheepishly decided the situation wasn't one which would call for tear gas bombs or riot guns.

One or two of the officers being fathers themselves, they even went so far as to make a legal ruling on the spot.

They decided Bruce Bugbee Dorr could play in the sun, clothes or no clothes, any time he pleased, all summer long.

And before they went back to the station house to report they announced their favorable legal finding to Bruce's much-surprised young mother, Mrs. Constance Dorr, who was puzzled to know what all the fuss was about.

DOCTOR ORDERS BATH

When she learned a serious complaint had been made and that her tanned and roly-poly "Brucie" had been characterized as an "immodest spectacle," her first impulse was to laugh out loud.

Then she got mad—and even the policemen couldn't blame her.

"The doctor ordered this baby to be given a daily sun bath," she stormed. "And he's going to get it in spite of all the trouble-makers in Dorchester.

"Let 'em go to the beaches and see what the girls are—or aren't—wearing. Or the men-bathers, for that matter. There's a chance for the reformers.

"Any woman who hasn't anything on her mind but worrying about the sight of an 11-months-old baby, playing in his own front yard, ought to visit a doctor and have her head examined."

NUDES WHILE IT IS NUDES—No nudes is the only good news that a woman neighbor of Mrs. Russell Dorr of Dorchester wants. She protested to police about the sunbaths 11-months-old Bruce was getting in the front yard. The neighbor told police the naked sun is all right, but not the naked son.

Girl Saves Boy Friend $10 in Fine

It seemed it was all a misunderstanding or something, so Verna's boy friend got a $10 reduction in his fine—and he and Verna left Brookline court arm in arm after she refused to testify against him.

He, Webb, R. Mardin, 28, of Brighton avenue, Allston, had been arrested early Saturday morning at Harvard and Williams streets, Brookline, while she, Verna Kahofer, 19, of Freeman street, Brookline, had been screeching fit to wake the dead—according to two policemen.

In court, Officers Edward J. Sullivan and Philip Murphy, said no nothing else serious had happened, and it just appeared to be an argument.

Mardin, who had been fined $20 on Saturday on a charge of disturbance, with the case continued until today so the girl could be brought in as a witness smiled as Judge Rollins reduced the fine to $10.

Admits He Killed Girl On Links

ATTICA, Ind., July 24 (AP)—Sheriff William Henry Ramsey announced early today that Thomas Boyce, 26-year-old golf course worker, had made an oral confession that he killed Elizabeth Debruicker, 11, Attica school girl and buried her body near the Harrison Hills Country Club.

Sheriff Ramsey said the confession was made to Prosecutor R. C. Festers, State Policemen Paul Rule and Robert Bowman and Deputy

THOMAS BOYCE

Sheriff George W. Keller at West Lafayette state police barracks.

The sheriff said Boyce, who had been held since a few hours after the girl's body was found Saturday, denied mistreating her before killing her. He said the man admitted strangling her, however, with the belt from her dress and then said he buried her in the shallow grave.

He said the girl was killed between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Boyce was rushed here from West Lafayette barracks at dawn and then started to Indianapolis

Overseas Plane In Horta Mishap

NEW YORK, July 24 (INS)—The Atlantic Clipper, huge passenger plane returning to the United States from Marseilles, France, was damaged in a landing at Horta in the Azores today, Pan-American Airway officials here announced.

None of the Clipper's eight passengers or its crew of 12 was injured as far as could be learned, officials said.

The mishap was the first to occur since Pan American inaugurated transatlantic passenger service in June. The Atlantic Clipper, in command of Captain R. O. D. Sullivan, a veteran pilot, was homeward bound on the ninth scheduled hop.

According to word cabled Pan American's headquarters from its base at Horta, the huge ship was damaged only slightly. The Clipper will be beached immediately, however, to determine full extent of the damage before any decision is made regarding whether it will continue on to Port Washington, Long Island.

Jap Fleet Prepares For War Training

TOKYO, July 24 (INS)—The Japanese fleet shortly will begin wartime training, it was officially announced today.

BEAUTY LETS SON VISIT DAD

CLEVELAND, July 24 (AP)—The former Peggy Peacock of the Ziegfeld Follies agreed today to give up her three-year-old son to her divorced husband for three weeks every year.

She previously had charged the ex-spouse, Edward P. Simon, with kidnaping after he took the boy from her San Antonio, Texas, home. The kidnaping charge collapsed with today's agreement.

The Simons' divorce last year permitted the father, a 33-year-old oil salesman, to visit the boy at reasonable times in Texas. The agreement provides he may bring the child to Cleveland.

Since the divorce Mrs. Simon has married Captain Sarratt Hames, U. S. A.

4 POLICE FACE QUIZ ON CRIME

Former Patrolman Paul A. Petzold today stuck to his story of an alleged crime ring implicating four members of the police department as he was questioned in the Charles street jail by the three members of the special inquiry board appointed by Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty.

After talking to Petzold, who made a dramatic confession naming four patrolmen as having "looked the other way" during attempted safe breaks in Roxbury and East Boston, the board left to visit Station 10 at Roxbury Crossing and Station 7 at East Boston to question the officers named. Three of the accused police are stationed at Roxbury Crossing, and one in East Boston.

Acting Superintendent John M. Anderson and Deputy Superintendents James R. Claflin and Benjamin A. Wall, comprise the board.

Later the inquiry board is scheduled to visit state prison, and Deer Island house of correction to question four other men who Petzold allegedly said were involved in the $2100 S. S. Pierce safe robbery of 1938.

The former policeman was a night watchman for the food company's Copley square building at the time.

Testimony against Petzold, who is now in Charles street jail awaiting hearing on a charge of possessing a burglar's tool, will be given the grand jury in August. At the same time, police said, the jurors will be offered the findings of the board of inquiry.

Callahan Fate Near Council

Governor Saltonstall was reported as busy today drafting a statement to the executive council asking removal of State Public Works Commissioner William F. Callahan.

It was understood he intended to present the statement to the council at its regular meeting next Wednesday.

The only development that would delay action until a later date would be information to the effect that the necessary five council votes could not be obtained by the governor to remove Callahan or council members could not agree on a successor to the public works commissioner.

There is a difference of opinion as to whether the governor has the necessary five votes—a majority of the council. Some persons in close touch with the administration say he has them, while others say Callahan now has four votes, the governor three, with two "on the fence."

Frederick Butler of Andover, chairman of the Essex county commission is said to have considerable support as Callahan's successor, in the event of removal. Butler was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for the governorship last year.

Driver Held In Hit-Run

Four charges were preferred today in Brighton court against Joseph M. Baird, 50, of Whittier place, Natick, in connection with a hit-and-run traffic accident in which a four-year-old boy was seriously injured.

The case against Baird, charged with drunkenness, operating after drinking, operating dangerously and leaving the scene of an accident, was continued until August 18, pending outcome of the boy's injuries.

Richard F. Rooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rooney of Burton street, Brighton, ran into Washington street, Brighton, to retrieve a ball and was knocked 20 feet by a racing car, police said.

300 GUESTS FAINT AT MASS WEDDING

MONTREAL, July 24 (Canadian Press)—A wave of fainting and dizzy spells among those attending a mass marriage in the Montreal baseball park put 300 persons, by police estimate, under emergency treatment, but only eight remained in hospitals bed today.

The eight were not in serious condition—merely "too tired to go home."

The victims were mostly girls. Hospital attaches said they were felled by a combination of the broiling heat, excitement, too much soda pop and "too much running around."

Fr. Roy

The first victims started slumping in their stadium seats about 9 o'clock last night.

Hours earlier they witnessed the marriage of 105 young French-Canadian couples in a ceremony arranged by the Young Catholic Workers' movement to offset "the unfavorable publicity marriage is getting from the world's divorce courts." Rev. Henry Roy supervised preparation courses for one year.

20,000 IN STADIUM

There were 20,000 persons in the stands of the big stadium for that event and the games and pagentry that followed—all part of the program of the Y. C. W. annual congress.

The faintings covered a period of about three hours. At one time victims were carried down from the stands faster than the St. John's ambulance brigade could care for them. None of the days newlyweds was among them.

The pageant continued, meanwhile, to a weird accompaniment of sirens and ambulance bells. Dressing rooms at the stadium became temporary hospital wards where many victims were given first aid treatment, the more serious cases going to St. Luke and Notre Dame hospitals.

When the dressing rooms were filled the overflow was shunted to a school across the street.

TERRORIST PLOT BARED BY BRITAIN

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare announced in Commons today that the government had "reliable information" that terrorist activities of the Irish Republican army were being "actively stimulated by foreign organizations."

He made his statement in moving the second reading of emergency legislation to help crush activities which have resulted in scores of bombings in various parts of England.

He also disclosed that the government early this year had found a "Plan S" under which terrorist attempts were to be organized. He produced a photostatic copy of the plan in the House.

"It is a very remarkable document," Sir Samuel said.

"It is not the kind of irresponsible melodramatic document that one sometimes discovers in searches of this sort.

"It is a very carefully worked out staff plan—the kind that might be worked out by a general staff setting out in detail the way in which a campaign of sabotage could be successfully carried out against this country."

He also disclosed that since the campaign started early in the year police had seized 1600 sticks of gelignite, 1000 detanators and hundreds of pounds of other explosives.

He said the Irish Republican army, outlawed extremist organization which seeks the union of Ireland and northern Ireland and the ending of all ties of that united Ireland with the British empire, had surveyed important bridges, railway works, munition dumps and airports and had been engaged on a plan to blow up the Houses of Parliament.

Referring to his statement that the terrorist campaign was being stimulated by foreign organizations, Sir Samuel said it would not be in the public interest to divulge the details.

"The House must accept my assurance that these are not unchecked suspicions founded upon gossip," he asserted, "but definite conclusions reached upon reliable data."

Judge Rules Ball Fan 'Out' For Season

Hereafter Ferdinand Brabant, 34, of Prospect street, Woburn, won't have to watch the Bees make any errors; nor will he be privileged either to watch them pull off any of those fielding gems.

Brabant, whose indignation at an Al Lopez error led him to hop the infield fence for combat on Saturday, acknowledged today in Brighton court that he became over-excited.

Such excitement being bad for one, Judge Thomas H. Connolly placed the charge of disturbing a public assembly on file but banned Brabant from National League Park for the balance of the schedule.

It's bad enough being upset by your own errors without being challenged to fight about them, the judge intimated.

Anyway, the Bees have left town.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 24 (AP)—Coroner R. E. DuFresne said Mrs. Grace Wheeler, 54, had committed suicide by eating a large assortment of nails, ranging from eight-penny size, several four-inch darning needles, open safety pins, carpet tacks, fish hooks, corkscrews, several pieces of glass and other sharp articles. No motive was found.

SEEK LAW TO RE-IMPRISON CONVICTS FREE BY FRAUD

Proposed legislation which calls for the imprisonment of all ex-convicts found to have been pardoned by fraudulent means was prepared today by the legislature's committee on legal affairs.

Half a dozen more suggested laws, correcting faults in present pardon and parole statutes, will also be brought up for discussion tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile, grand jury investigations of ramifications of the so-called "pardons racket" loomed in at least four Massachusetts counties as a result of the special parole investigating commission's study of the release of Raymond Patriarca.

REFUSE TO TALK

Indictments will be sought by the commission, it was learned, naming persons in Suffolk, Norfolk, Middlesex and Worcester counties who have made conflicting statements during private pardons probe hearings.

Many witnesses are quoted as saying they are ready to accept jail terms on charges of perjury rather than tell all they know about certain paroles and pardons.

One of the witnesses at tomorrow's hearing will be Austin S. MacCormick, New York state commissioner of correction, who was recently engaged in cleaning up the pardon and parole racket in his state.

Any citizen who has information or suggestions that would be helpful to the commission in connection with paroles, is invited to be present at the hearing.

Later the commission is expected to reach a decision on the question of taking action against several men who hold or have held positions in the state service of Massachusetts.

IRONCLAD EVIDENCE

Ironclad evidence involving these men directly in the improper payment of money in connection with the granting of pardons, is in the possession of the commission, it was claimed.

Because of the length of time necessary for impeachment, it was said that if any such move is made it will be placed in the hands of Gov. Saltonstall with the expectation that he will call a special session of the legislature to dispose of the matter.

Hunt Slayer Of Doctor's Wife

BENTON, Ill., July 24 (AP)—The mysterious bedroom slaying of Mrs. George W. Gore, 45, wife of a Benton physician, sent officers today in search of "one or two" unnamed suspects.

Sheriff Edward Powell of Franklin county declined to give further details of his investigation of meager clues found at the scene.

A neighbor reported an unidentified man fled from the Gore home about dawn Sunday, shortly after he had heard shots and a scream.

Dr. Gore, 65, told police he was awakened by the shots. The slain woman was his second wife.

Give Up Hope for 4 Buried in Avalanche

GLACIER, Wash., July 24 (AP) — Workers dug into the snow on the precipitous foce of lofty Mount Baker today, in a search for the bodies of four of six college students trapped Saturday in an avalanche.

Bodies of two of the victims, Alice James, of Arlington, and Julius Cornbiutt, of Bellingham, have bee.. recovered.

The missing are Viene Fisher, Coupleville; Maynard Howat, Seattle; Hope Weitman, Thornton, and Beulah Lindbergh, Great Falls, Mont.

Members of the searching party, who returned last night to Glacier at the foot of the mountain to rest after an all-day search, were without hope of finding any of the missing alive.

There were 25 members in the Western Washington College of Education's party, on an annual hike.

The group was under "Roman Wall," a rugged cliff only 400 feet from the 10,700-foot summit and preparing to scale the cliff when the avalanche of snow roared down on them. Six were trapped and buried alive.

The scene of the tragedy is about a six-hour hike from this mountain town and only those accustomed to mountain trails dare attempt it.

Survivors said the slide was about 100 yards wide when it started its made plunge but was more than 300 yards wide when it subsided.

The majority of those in the party were teachers attending the summer session of the Teachers' College.

Howat and Miss Weitman, a teacher, were to have wed soon.

34 Children All Night in Fog

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 24—A truckload of 34 cold, tired children arrived here at 4 a. m. today after a nine-hour trip full of nightmares from Nantasket Beach, during which they were lost and suffered two breakdowns.

The truck was one of two which carried children of the local Syrian community to the beach. They started back at 7 last night and the first truck reached Pawtucket shortly after 9:30.

The second was unreported after reaching Randolph. At midnight, four anxious parents, who used their cars to search highways for the children, sought the aid of Brockton police.

Massachusetts state troopers patroled highways and side roads without success. Meanwhile, after repairing the engine twice, the driver drove at a crawl through dense fog to carry his shivering, sleepy passengers home.

DEVOTION AT SHRINE

FAITHFUL approach famous Fiskdale shrine on knees for services opening novena in honor of St. Anne's feast day Wednesday. Five thousand pilgrims attended holy rite.

ST. ANNE'S SHRINE DRAWS PILGRIMS

FISKDALE, July 24—More than 5000 pilgrims gathered at the Shrine of St. Anne today for services of the Novena in honor of the Saint's feast day next Wednesday.

As usual in the annual observance, the opening at the shrine was marked by a procession of pilgrims and a sermon by the Rev. Raymond Piche, O. P., of Fall River, who has made the novena address each year for 18 years.

Pilgrims had come from all parts of the state by bus, truck and auto for the services, and one group arrived after a trip from Zeno Park, Saskatchewan, Can.

Fr. Piche was assisted in the ceremonies by the Rev. J. Alfred Jacques, pastor of St. Anne's Church, and the Rev. Sylvio Brodeur, curate at the church.

Among the pilgrims was a Holyoke woman, who came this year to give thanks.

Last year she attended the novena, although unable to walk. Today she was able to get about without assistance.

The novena services will continue daily until next Sunday, when the final services will be held.

The tragedy was discovered by her son, John, who returned in the evening and found all doors locked. With the aid of neighbors, he broke in and found his mother on the kitchen floor and gas flowing from the stove.

HERE'S THE "INSIDE TRACK" on more cigarette enjoyment for your money, as "Ken" Frank sees it: "I judge cigarettes by the way they burn. I find that longer-burning Camels smoke much milder, cooler, with a more delicate taste. Look at the results of these recent laboratory tests—they show Camel's longer burning means the same as 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK. That's a real saving. And Camel's rich, ripe flavor makes every puff a real thrill." Take "Ken" Frank's tip: Judge your cigarettes by the way they burn. Smoke Camels for smoking pleasure at its best . . . and more of it per pack!

By burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—CAMELS give smokers the equivalent of

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK

Recent impartial laboratory tests point out which popular cigarette gives the most actual smoking. These tests were conducted by a well-known group of scientists and covered 16 of the largest-selling brands. The results:

1 CAMELS were found to contain MORE TOBACCO BY WEIGHT than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.

2 CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

3 In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

There's luxury in the fine, delicate flavor and aroma of Camel's costlier tobaccos . . . there's economy in their unique, long-burning quality. Camels are the better cigarette that every smoker can afford.

State Creates New Welfare Districts

David W. Armstrong, state commissioner of public welfare and sponsor of the "decentralizing plan" for administration of Massachusetts welfare, today announced locations of newly established district headquarters, basis of the plan.

Under Armstrong's method each section of the state will in the future administer its own welfare problems. Formerly Boston had been headquarters for the entire state.

The new system will mean appointment of new supervisors from a list established by examination on July 7.

District headquarters are:

Springfield for Western Massachusetts; Worcester, Central; Lawrence, Northeastern; Medford, North Metropolitan; Brockton, South Metropolitan; New Bedford, South Eastern, and the State House in Boston for Boston, Cambridge, Somerville and Everett.

Establishment of the new district headquarters, which becomes effective August 1, provides for only a few other welfare jobs, according to Commissioner Armstrong.

OPEN TRIAL OF LONG'S EX-AIDES

NEW ORLEANS, July 24 (INS)—Louisiana, rocked by the biggest political scandal in its history, today awaited new revelations as investigating officials, federal and state, delved into hidden angles of the great graft expose which is gradually unfolding.

Fourteen persons are under arrest, new indictments are pending, politicians are quitting their jobs, and the city and state is buzzing with stories of more brazen graft on the part of officials who came into power after the assassination of the late Senator Huey P. Long.

The first five of those so far arrested were scheduled to be arraigned in federal court later in the day.

They include Dr. James Monroe Smith, whose sudden resignation as president of the Louisiana State University "broke" the scandal, and Seymour Weiss, New Orleans hotel owner, who used to be Huey Long's confidante and treasurer for the Long political machine.

Dr. Smith and Weiss are allegedly involved in "the Bienville Hotel deal." According to a federal indictment, Smith, Weiss, Monte Hart, a wealthy contractor, Louis C. Lesage, an ex-oil company executive, and J. Emory Adams, a nephew of Mrs. Smith, fleeced Louisiana State University out of $75,000 by a bogus sale of hotel fixtures.

The sale of the fixtures followed the legitimate sale of the Bienville Hotel in New Orleans to Louisiana State University for $575,000 in December, 1936. The indictment charges that, although the act of sale included all equipment and furnishings, the five men named later resold the fixtures to the university for $75,000 and split this sum among themselves.

DIES IN CLIFF FALL

Now's Time to Hop To Mars! It's Near!

Now's the best time in 15 years for that space-hop to Mars—if you're thinking of trying one!

Wear your earlaps and red flannels, and load up your interplanetary rocket with plenty of oxygen.

For the Martians, if there are any, think 100 degrees below zero a just mild summer temperature. And they breathe an atmosphere that would leave us gasping like fish out of water.

On the other hand, Mars is nearer to us, this week, than it has been since 1924; nearer than it will be again until 1956.

Thursday night the red planet that's the earth's next-door neighbor in the solar system will be a mere 36,000,000 miles away—just a step, as astronomical distances are figured.

In case you're planning to make the hop there in imagination only, you can chart your course by facing south tonight, any time after 9 o'clock, but the later the better.

You can't miss seeing Mars, as soon as it rises above the horizon, for it is by far the brightest object in its section of the sky.

WHAT YOU MAY SEE

Its reddish tinge is distinctly noticeable. Focus a pair of field glasses or your sea-captain grandfather's big brass telescope on the visiting planet, and you can probably see its disc.

You might even see a dark spot or two on the bright surface. Expert observers think the spots are vegetation, reported extended just at present by some seepage of moisture from the Martian polar snowcaps.

The snowcaps themselves are a spectacular sight—but you'll need a regular observatory telescope to make them visible.

From the Harvard Observatory they look like glittering dots of diamond-faceted brightness at top and bottom of the Martian disc.

Not even through the Harvard telescope, however, can you see the famous Martian "canals." Some astronomers, in fact, claim nobody has ever seen them that they're all imagination!

DEVER LEADS WAR TO SAVE RAILWAY

committee on railroads and as representative of the governor.

BACKED BY GOVERNOR

"Gov. Saltonstall will uphold the aims of the attorney-general in this matter," he told the gathering.

Cahill said he had just suggested transportation committee of the Legislature a plan by which a nine-man commission would be appointed with full power and adequate funds to solve the problem.

The commission would be made up of one senator, three representatives, three appointees of the governor, one of the attorney-general and one of the public utilities commission.

"The Attorney General's office should receive funds to hire experts to carry on whatever investigation may be necessary," he clared, pointing out that no question of political credit could be involved in the fight.

"It's just as hard for a Democrat to travel on a railroadless South Shore as it is for a Republican," Cahill added, and a spectator drew a laugh with the audible remark that "there aren't any Democrats on the South Shore."

SEES VALUES DROPPING

Senator Charles G. Miles of Brockton, chairman of the legislative transportation committee, pictured the plight of South Shore communities if they are deprived of railroadt service.

"Real estate values will drop to next to nothing," he said, "and the employes of the road will be thrown on relief, adding to the community tax burden."

Labor was represented as the hearing by General Chairman William F. onahue of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Declaring that approximately 1500 employes would be thrown out of work by abandonment of passenger service on the road, Donahue said labor would co-operate with the efforts to save the line "in any possible way."

FORESAW RAIL'S PLAN

He said his organization had been studying the question since last January, when it was predicted the New Haven trustees would make the move they did make—procure authorization from the federal court to abandon the railroad.

The federal court authorization without sanction by the state raises the question of state's rights, it was pointed out, and might bringf a fight that would carry through to the Supreme Court, adding another to the long list of state versus federal government cases which have had a profound effect on the development of the American form of government.

Governor Plans Special Narrow Gauge Message

Following a conference with a group of Winthrop citizens who protested that their city will be isolated if the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railway—the "Narrow Gauge"—is abandoned, Governor Saltonstall announced today that he will send the Legislature a special message about the road.

The Winthrop group, representing citizens who have steadily fought every curtailment of Narrow Gauge service, told the Governor that Winthrop's plight would be "extremely serious" if the railroad carries through its intention announced last Thursday, of abandoning all service by Oct. 1.

What stand the governor will take in his message was not indicated. It was believed, however, that he might suggest the legislature empower the Boston Elevated to take over that section of the Narrow Gauge serving Winthrop. A plan for the Elevated to take over the whole road was turned down two years ago as economically unsound, after a survey.

IDEAL VACATION WEATHER HOLDS

Continued "vacation weather" of the kind that in the past few weeks has given holiday joy to thousands of natives and visitors from all parts of the United States was predicted today by the weather man.

Yachtsmen and fishermen were assured of a calm sea with a slight swell, and gentle southerly and southwesterly winds, with "very slight probability of afternoon thundershowers and some slight indications of thunderstorms by Wednesday." Moderate fog along the shore was predicted for tonight.

Generally fair weather prevailed throughout New England.

Fog which had shrouded the Massachusetts bay coastline during the night burned off completely in the morning hours as boats worked to extricate a heavily laden coal barge which ran aground on Peaked Hill Bar off lower Cape Cod.

Elsewhere, shipping and highway traffic were retarded by the fog and early airplane flights were cancelled at East Boston airport.

While temporary inconvenience has been caused by an extended dry spell, tobacco growers in the fertile Connecticut valley were grateful for lack of early summer rains because in previous years excess moisture injured the roots of their plants.

F. D., Farley Resume 'Showdown' Parley

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 24 (AP)—Both parties of the President's Hilton Visit—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and James A. Farley—arrived today at Mrs. Roosevelt's cottage for an important meeting of New Deal political leaders.

Mr. Roosevelt, who had been confined to his bedroom with a cold, was reported much improved. He was expected to confer with Farley and Democratic National Committee Chairman Edward J. Flynn on the political situation.

Had the President and the Democratic national chairman discussed third term possibilities, and, if they had, what was decided?

Reports were current that Farley might withdraw as a candidate for governor of New York after conferring with Mr. Roosevelt in Washington tomorrow.

Farley has been reported on numerous occasions that he has entered the 1940 race for the Presidency, but he has denied this.

CONGRESS FIGHTS TO ADJOURN

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Congress today battled toward adjournment as New Deal and anti-New Deal forces called Democratic senators to battle stations for the final showdown on the $500,000,000 relief appropriation bill.

Democratic leaders, determined to get away on the $500 vacation which they promised themselves when they finished the relief job, were confident they had the votes to put the measure through the senate by tonight.

Republicans, however, were ready to filibuster to the last ditch against the bill, which would provide $1,750,000,000 for relief and public works.

Democratic leaders, who had been confident they could get the bill through the senate by Saturday night, regretfully predicted that it would be Monday or Tuesday before the measure could be sent to the house for final action.

Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.), administration leader in the senate, said he was willing to stay in session Sunday if necessary to get the bill through.

Senator Bilbo (D., Miss.), who has been conducting a filibuster against the bill, said he would be willing to stay in session Sunday if necessary to get the bill through.

Woodchuck, Dog In Tug-O-War To the Death

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 24 (AP)—Robert Mitchell's Boston bulldog, "Fido," emerged victorious from a tooth and nail battle with a woodchuck but he certainly was shorn of glory.

"Fido" pounced on the chuck as he scampered toward his den. The chuck (groundhog if you prefer) grabbed "Fido" by the nose and "Fido" grabbed the chuck by the jaw and both began to pull.

First thing Mitchell knew, the chuck had dragged "Fido" right into his hole. And he still was hoeing on when Mitchell dug them out and killed the chuck.

ONLY A NOVICE ORDERS A DRINK

Without Naming the Brand of Liquor He Prefers

The more a man's been around—the more careful he is in his choice of liquor. Of course, he names his brand when ordering by the bottle. And he's equally particular when ordering a drink at the bar. And that's a wise practice, especially when ordering a mixed drink! Remember—it's more than mere skill in mixing that makes a fine drink. A great deal depends upon the quality of the liquor used! And you can be sure that a widely advertised brand has fine, uniform quality. And yet it costs no more at the bar. So don't be a novice. Be specific. Your bartender has the brand you want—and he's glad to give it to you. For he wants to please you. That's the only way he can get you to come back.

KEEP U.S. OUT OF WAR ... BE NEUTRAL

The Effort That Failed

The well considered reasons for the opposition of the Hearst newspapers to the administration's anti-neutrality legislation are told in the following telegrams exchanged between Representative [illegible] author of the war dictatorship bill - and William Randolph Hearst.

June 17, 1939.

Hon. [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Dear [illegible]:

You have known me for more than fifty years and as you remember, when we sat in your home on Riverside Drive, you wrote that beautiful letter about me to Arthur Brisbane which was instrumental more than anything else in my election to [illegible]

And I want you to take my word for it that my neutrality bill: H. J. Res. 306, which goes back to strict neutrality, is the only way we can keep this country out of war, and I now want the help of the Hearst newspapers, as this bill will come up in the Congress within one week from now. Practically every other major newspaper in the country, of all political faiths, outside of your newspapers are giving me their wholehearted support editorially and every other way.

This should not be and is not a partisan matter.

The New York Times gave me over a column editorial.

The New York Herald Tribune, The Washington Evening Star, The Washington Post, and right down the line, Walter Lippman, even Mark Sullivan, support my idea of neutrality.

I have studied this subject very carefully ever since I came to Congress, for 17 years, and if you will have your representative in Washington call to see me about this matter and get the real facts, I feel positive that you will also give me your support.

Please let me hear from you and advise me your decision in the matter.

Very best regards and best wishes.

SOL BLOOM, M. C.

The following is the telegram sent by William Randolph Hearst in reply to Hon. Sol Bloom:

June 19, 1939.

Hon. Sol Bloom
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Am sorry, Sol, that I cannot support your bill which, I regret to say, I consider an anti-neutrality measure because of Presidential powers of discrimination in its operations.

I believe it would make certain our being involved in European and Asiatic conflicts, in Bolshevist and Fascist conflicts, in racial and religious conflicts everywhere.

It would not only enmesh us in such wars abroad but would import and introduce those evil conflicts into our own land now happily and blessedly free from them.

You know that I am a sincere friend of yours and have always heretofore supported you but I cannot in this instance; and actually, Sol, not only for the sake of peace and unity of our common country but for your own fine record and high fame, I [illegible]

ARTISTIC ROCKPORT makes its own contribution to criminology. The town's combined police and fire station, recently completed as a Federal Work Project, is a veritable art gallery.

The experiment goes far beyond the scope of Essex County's penal "estate" in M[illegible]

It radically exceeds the suggestions of Attorney General Murphy, who would substitute prison farms for "horror institutions," such as Alca[illegible]

But it fails at one important point. It undertakes only to vitalize law breakers at the time of their apprehension or when they are ON THEIR WAY to prisons or penitentiaries.

Far better might be a similar, soul-stirring display in a warden's office to greet convicts AT THE COMPLETION of their sentences.

Then some prisoner, really reformed, might gaze at the canvases and to himself say:

"What others have done I can and will do."

Will it bring them glory and golden gain . . . a mansion fair or a castle in Spain . . . etched by the pale moonbeams?

Better by far if it brought no less . . . than simple joys and happiness . . . this rainbow ship of dreams.

GENERAL NOBILE
Broken Leg Was the "If"

THE DIRIGIBLE Italia had made a fine voyage of exploration to the North Pole and was coasting downhill homeward when she crashed at Spitzbergen. Her commander and seven of the crew were hurled to the ice. High winds carried the [illegible] bag out over the [illegible] with six others and [illegible]

Nobile's [illegible] in his fall and he was one of the first taken back to Italy by rescue planes. The planes had first dropped food to those left behind.

An investigation followed. A commission named by Premier Mussolini spent weeks, months, on the inquiry. Before their findings were reported to Il Duce, Nobile's hair whitened and his gilt-trimmed uniform hung loosely on his thin frame.

He resigned, finally, and later went to Russia where he directed the building of the Soviet Union's semi-rigid airships for a time.

Twelve years before, another polar explorer, at the other end of the world, was shipwrecked, but with a difference. Sir Ernest Shackleton had early warning of calamity. His Endurance was a sailing ship and it had been locked long among the floes of Antarctica.

Before these closed in and crushed it, Shackleton foresaw the inevitable and had time to plan. When the Endurance was engulfed every one was brought clear and the commander, being whole and hearty was instantly in command. Months of peril had to be faced but in the end Shackleton got his whole party safely home.

UNHURT, the less lucky explorer of 12 years later might have done no less. He was brave and resourceful and his record was notable, too.

Any life is full of "IF"S," big and little. In the life of General Nobile the "IF" of his broken leg sticks like a burr to the mind of one contemplating his career.

What would have happened if that bone, so faithful for so many years, had not betrayed its master when the big Italia came a cropper on her run down from the top of the world—what lives might have been saved, what deeds kept bright?

JAMES ROOSEVELT TELLS ANECDOTE

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, July 24—James Roosevelt now is telling this story of Their Majesties' visit to the White House and of the usher assigned to stand guard outside the Queen's room . . . After Elizabeth had retired she suddenly opened the door and told the usher to summon her lady-in-waiting . . . He obeyed, went to the lady's room, but hesitated before knocking on the door, wondering what the correct procedure should be . . . He then saw the Queen's maid coming down the hallway, told her that Elizabeth wanted her lady-in-waiting and asked the maid to knock on the door . . . The royal maid stared at him coldly and then walked on . . . "Oh," President Roosevelt's usher called after Queen Elizabeth's maid, "big shot, eh?"

MUSIC DEPT.: At the Stork Club last night the Sonny Kendis orchestra played "Love, Your Magic Spell Is Everywhere"—theme song of "The Trespasser," the movie of ten years ago . . . One of the dancers approached the band leader and whispered, "Do you think anybody would mind if I sing it?" . . . "Go right ahead," she was told . . . and so Gloria Swanson, who introduced that song in the movie seen by millions a decade ago, sang it beautifully once more . . . to the stay-up-lates in a Broadway night club.

GLORIA SWANSON

WORLD'S FAIR DEPT.: George Jessel took George M. Cohan through his "Little Old New York" concession and showed him everything including the seven bars . . . Before they started, Cohan told a funny story to Jessel. And before they had finished, Jessel was telling the same story to Cohan—and Cohan was laughing at it.

TRAVEL DEPT.: William Morris, Jr., went to see some friends off on the Yankee Clipper Wednesday . . . Ten minutes before the plane left, one of the reservations was canceled . . . Mr. Morris, without an extra toothbrush or another shirt, flew to Europe.

BUSINESS DEPT.: The airplane companies are devoting their efforts to halt a practice which has become too prevalent . . . It is being used by people who are anxious to be awakened at certain hours in the morning. They make a plane reservation, instruct the airport office to wake them by phoning in time for them to catch the plane—and then cancel the reservation.

ENTERPRISE: Lee Bristol, vice-president of Bristol-Myers Co., broadcast recently on Fred Allen's program . . . His appearance is not unlike that of Warden Lawes . . . Al Rosen, who is producing "David From Goliath"—a story based upon the career of Alabama Pitts—submitted an offer for Bristol to portray the Warden role . . . Bristol has accepted.

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: The [illegible] reader" who signs himself or herself "Dog Lover" is a [illegible] with . . . There have been editors whose paper was never complete without a "dog story" . . . At an early stage in the so-called career of the oversigned, it was his bad fortune to work for one of these doggy gentlemen . . . and for a lesson in hypocrisy THERE was one . . . The guy himself actually hated dogs, but his squirming staff was wont to toss pennies against the wall of the city room, under the clock, to determine which unfortunate would dig out, or make up, the dog-story for the day . . . It was quite a chore . . . Memory of these taxing days in which your correspondent all too often pulled up a loser probably is the reason why I haven't been beguiled more often in this space with items anent somebody's faithful "Fido" (generally named "Rex" whose terrific heroism in the clutch saved the situation or proved in some way that man's best friend is his dog.

WELL, THERE WAS A PANTING PUPPY just before dusk last eventide who had become bewildered by the stream of automobiles passing near the traffic light at North street, North Weymouth, at the Nantasket highway junction . . . It wasn't a handsome pup . . . Its breed was indeterminate, with hints in its color scheme and general confirmation that a wolf had figured in its genealogy . . . The purp would run five yards ahead, then double in his tracks, then pause as if to bolt for the other side of the road, and then to stop and gaze with longing eyes across the street . . . Once, he missed extinction by yards as a jalopy whizzed by his nose . . . The hero of our little story is the motor-cycle cop whose vehicle is numbered M 203 . . . The officer undoubtedly saved the dog's life, which gives the yarn a new twist . . . man saves dog . . . The purp had raced to a point some two hundred yards beyond the North street light and had come to a point with the intention of making another try to get across the street . . . Patrolman M 203 took the situation under control right here . . . He planted his cycle broadside to the traffic, held up his hand to the cars racing from both directions, sighted for a minute and waved the dog to safety . . . For one who was a doubter of the alleged "human intelligence" of the canine, this was a lesson . . . You could tell from the expression of the dog, that he was grateful . . . But when he interrupted his lope across the roadway and paused for a moment to lick the puttee of the cop, it was really a heart-touching little incident . . . I hope the superiors of M 203 will read this . . . He would make a good sergeant.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Two vice-presidents of a famous New York department store were in Boston last week, and one was here to address a civic gathering . . . The other said he was "surveying business conditions" in town . . . The firm which owns their services has been reported as ready to invade the Boston field . . . The Junior Leaguers will be out in force when the Old Harbor's association premiere is held at Wonderland tonight, and the gals will be given a surprise with the presentation of a "debutante greyhound" with tea and cakes in the administration building . . . Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champ, was surrounded by paying fans at Como-by-the-Sea over the week-end . . . The Boston ex-boxer is commuting between the shore spot and his popular South End supper-club, where barbecued chicken is the featured dish.

Hollywood Paragraphs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 24 — Never thought Sam Goldwyn would turn press agent for a rival producer's picture. Yet to hear him talk about "Stanley and Livingstone" you'd think he had a financial interest in it.

Sam is so enthusiastic he says its the best picture he's seen in a long, long time and that Spencer Tracy's speech before the geographical society out Munis Muni in "Zola and [illegible]," which I [illegible] praised indeed.

On the other hand Walter is just as interested in little Bennett as he was in the early days of their "keeping company." You Joan is not giving him seven-night-a-week dates as she used to

Hats They're Talking About

By ANNICE BRINK

IT SEEMS that no sooner does Paris create something captivating in the way of a fall hat, the sort of thing for which you would pay many francs, than we find it on our favorite shops' counters at anywhere from three to six dollars!

Take the case of the postillion hat with crown of "beefeater" inspiration which had all the continental fashion scribblers beating around for new adjectives. It featured the use of ostrich in Schiaparelli's pet combination of green and candy pink. Well, here it is. Just come and get it, and for very little cash. It's illustrated in the adjoining sketch.

Another wardrobe fillip-provider that'll hold you until you get some new fall clothes is the captivating little feli scoop, illustrated at the top, with lengths of shining ribbon cascading down the back. And a most flirtatious veil over your nose.

FOR SHOPPING information on these smart new hats, lots of high style at pinched-budget prices, phone Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, LIBerty 4000, week-days until 5.30, or write.

HOW TO GET A CASH LOAN

ON NEW FIT YOUR BUDGET PLAN

Borrow $20 to $300 without co-makers or endorsers • Repay in 2 to 20 convenient monthly installments as you choose • No bankable security required • No embarrassment or delay

IF YOU need cash, Household's new plan is a simple, convenient way for you to get it. You borrow without co-makers or endorsers. You repay in 2 to 20 convenient monthly installments as best fits your budget. The faster you repay your loan, the less it costs you. Let's assume that you need $100 and that you can conveniently repay $9.75 a month. The table below shows that 12 installments of $9.75 each will repay your loan in full, including charges. Or suppose you can pay more each month: Six monthly payments of $18.14 repays $100. Or if you wish smaller monthly payments, you can repay as little as $6.41 per month for 20 months.

Simple to borrow

To get a Household Finance loan of $20 to $300 you merely tell us about your needs—and leave an application. No credit inquiries are made of friends or relatives. No one has to sign the loan papers with you (married couples sign together). You get your loan promptly. Usually the money is ready for you the day after you apply.

Choose the payment that fits your budget

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the loan table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which fits your budget. See how you can make very small payments if you wish. Or you can pay larger installments and pay up sooner. Note how little your loan costs if you repay in a short time. A loan of $100 repaid in four monthly installments costs only $3.76. And to get your Household loan you need no endorsers. You are spared the embarrassment of asking others to be co-makers.

In your own interest don't get a loan anywhere [illegible]. Here [illegible] convenience of [illegible] without obligation.

READ THIS GUARANTEE

We guarantee the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, no matter how long you go on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of schedule.

This table is based on prompt repayment. Payments may be made in advance of the day they are due, if you wish. Advance payment reduces the cost of your loan proportionately, since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments are calculated at Household's rate of 2½% per month, which is less than the lawful maximum.

By JACK CONWAY

ONE CANNOT consider $22,274,315 small change, and that is what the final mutuel handle was at Suffolk Downs following 60 days of racing . . . Old Jawn Public, his Missus or perhaps the girl friend managed to dig up an average of $371,238 freak spunach a day . . . They should at least be complimented on their ability to replenish their bankrolls even if their handicapping wasn't always 100 per cent.

[illegible] souls will be at Rockingham Park this [illegible] confident that with new surroundings and different [illegible] in the fact they are restless and like to keep moving to new [illegible]. . . Many of them got a bit damaged whacking away at the [illegible] mutuel machines at Suffolk Downs, and they believe they w[illegible] able to make better advances against Lou Smith's inner defenses.

As the poet said, hope springs eternal in the human breast . . . I believe this is more true of race track devotees than of any [illegible]

"One could have played Xavier on his race against Boston Pal," said one real bookie at the Wesley M. Sears horse picked up $9650 as he won the Puritan Handicap to pay $52.80.

Xavier was flying through the stretch run, and his time of 1.42 2-5 for the one mile and a furlong was only two fifths slower than the track record established by Seabiscuit on August 7, 1937 . . . Of course Miss Mary Xavier Sullivan of the staff of this newspaper had two bobs right on the winner's nose . . . Miss Sullivan couldn't pass up a horse with the name Xavier.

A [illegible] betting chance never had a place in my book . . . I wouldn't [illegible] in the month of July. The Challedon backers felt the same way and [illegible] for their money when Johnstown proved that after all he is only a horse . . . It is better to watch a race and not bet on it if you think a 1-5 favorite cannot lose.

Doyle's Dressing Gown of Lamb's Wool

I QUOTE from the Daily Mail of London:

"Jack Doyle, resplendent in dressing gown of lamb's wool, answered the bell against Eddie Phillips shortly after 11 o'clock . . . and on 21s later he was lying with his toes turned up out to the world.

"Doyle had looked very sunburned and handsome in green silk shorts, but Manila, his film star wife, did not go to see him. Husband Doyle would not let her.

"When it was over 12 police officers round the ringside escorted Doyle through the jeering, laughing crowd. He was smiling, too.

"'It was just one of those things. You cannot have the luck with you all of the time,' he said.'

And at one minute past midnight Len Harvey, after his severe dog-dog battle with Jock McAvoy, kissed his wife and said:

"This is the happiest birthday of my life."

Harvey, the winner, is 32.

"Harvey had lasted the full 15 rounds, and had taken heavy body blows from his opponent. In the 14th round disaster nearly overtook him. Twice he reeled to terrific [illegible] to the jaw. McAvoy chased him, trying hard to land a winning blow.

"But he struggled through to a last round on which both men gave heavy punishment and took it unflinchingly.

"Harvey now holds five titles. In the McAvoy fight he won the cruiser weight crown and the vacant Empire championship. He held his British cruiser-weight title. He was already the British and Empire heavyweight champion."

Editor's note—The British cruiserweight title is similar to the American light heavyweight championship, to wit, 175 pounds.

Doyle Preferred Being a Singer

JUDITH ALLEN, Doyle's first wife, once asked me to talk with Jack to see if I thought he could be developed into a contender for the world's heavyweight championship. The three of us had luncheon at a downtown cafe.

During the luncheon, Doyle would occasionally break forth into song. He refused about [illegible] but when he sang he was carried away by enthusiasm and sentiment.

"Would you rather be a singer or a fighter?" I asked Doyle.

"I would like to sing but the money," replied Jack.

"Then you'll never make good as a heavyweight," I told him. "Your heart isn't in the boxing game."

As I listened to Doyle sing love songs, I thought of Dempsey, Sharkey, Gieb and other famous fighting men. They got their fun out of punching an opponent on the jaw, and didn't have much time for music and the classics.

Doyle at the time I had luncheon with him also had an expensive automobile and a chauffeur.

That kind of luxury doesn't help prepare one for a severe [illegible] but hungry. Then they can knock over mountains.

Well leave the Doyle type for the movies and the music halls.

Give Sox Welcome

Give the Red Sox a rousing welcome when they return to Boston this week. The club has had a great road trip. It licked the Yanks five straight, which was a feat by itself. Joe Cronin and his players proved the Yanks can be stopped. Even if the Sox don't win the American League pennant this year, they have proved they have what it takes to go places in baseball.

Why not a day to Ted Williams? He has been the spark plug of the Red Sox pennant drive, and should get recognition from the fans.

YANKS NIP CHISOX BUT RED SOX GAIN

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—The White Sox bowled over the New York Yankees, 8 to 5, in the first game of a doubleheader, but saw their six game winning streak end in the ninth inning of the night-cap, 5 to 4.

After the veteran Ted Lyons pitched and helped hit them to the opening triumph, his season's tenth victory against two defeats, the Chicagoans led "Bump" Hadley, 4 to 3, going into the eighth inning of the second game.

LYONS HERO

The Yankees then tied it up off Johnny Rigney on an unearned run and Red Rolfe singled home Pinch-hitter Charley Keller from second in the ninth. Keller, batting for Hadley, singled to open the ninth inning and moved to scoring position on Frankie Crosetti's sacrifice.

Ted Lyons

Lyons himself led Chicago's 12 hit attack off Lefty Gomez and Steve Sundra in the first game with a perfect day of three singles and a pass. Mediocre hurler, though spoiling his record of 42 consecutive passless innings by walking Crosetti and two others, held the champions to six hits.

SOX BELT GOMEZ

The Sox scored the bulk of their runs off Gomez, three in the second and four in the third. Four singles and a double steal with Larry Rosenthal on the scoring end provided the second inning fireworks.

Four more hits, including doubles by Rosenthal and Walker, plus Walker's scoring from third after the Yanks failed to cover the plate on a short foul to Catcher Bill Dickey, clinched the game in the third.

The doubleheader was played before a crowd of 51,000. Comiskey Park was packed 80 minues before play started, and it was estimated 20,000 disappointed fans were turned away when the gates were closed.

Chicago's first game victory extended its pace to 17 victories in 21 starts.

THRICE CHAMP AT 20

RUTLAND, Vt., July 24 (INS)—A three time winner at the age of 20, Tom Pierce of Rutland today held another Vermont amateur golf title. Pierce defeated Jack Conway, a fellow townsman, 7 and 5, to annex the title.

Szabo to Start In London Mile

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—Miklos Szabo, the durable Hungarian who campaigned unsuccessfully in the United States last winter, has entered the mile race here August 7 against Blaine Rideout of the United States and Sydney Wooderson and Denis Pell of England.

Szabo holds the accepted world record for two miles in 8 minutes 56 seconds, and once set a world 3000-meter standard.

Sixteen nations will be represented in the meet, which will be featured by the return "grudge" duel between Wooderson and Rideout, principals in the recent "bumping" incident at Princeton.

89 IN N. E. AMATEUR

RUMFORD, R. I., July 24 (INS)—A field of 89 golfers was listed today for competition in the New England amateur golf tournament, which gets underway at Wannamoisett Country Club on Wednesday morning. Of the 89 mashiemen entered in the tourney, 40 were enrolled from Massachusetts.

Vacation Kayak's Reward

INGLEWOOD, Calif., July 24 (AP)—Owner C. S. Howard and Trainer Tom Smith decided today to give Kayak II, winner Saturday of the $50,000 Gold Cup Handicap, a vacation until autumn.

Kayak II, also winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap and not yet four years old, will be entered next in the Hawthorne Gold Cup at Chicago in September.

"We'll take him to Del Mar with Seabiscuit and the rest of the stable, and lay him up until time to go East for the late fall meetings," said Smith.

After the Chicago race the Howard horse will be taken to New York for the fall meetings at Belmont and Empire and then to Pimlico in Maryland.

SOX GREATEST ROAD TEAM HOME FOR LONG FENS STAY

By JOE CASHMAN

EN ROUTE TO BOSTON, July 24—"The team that came back" gets back some time tonight.

Leaving Boston three weeks ago today, with 12½ games separating them from first place, our sensational Red Sox return as conquering heroes this evening with only 7½ games between them and the American League roof as they await the opening of their longest Fenway stay of the season on the morrow.

They began writing the season's most brilliant road saga with their parade win streak and concluded in a blaze of glory

As recently as last Thursday morning the future looked black for the Back Bay boys.

They had just lost four straight games in a five-game series in Chicago. They were 10 games back of the Yanks, whereas they had been as close as 5½ games starting their Western invasion a week earlier. Third place was only 3½ games below them.

CAME OUT OF SPIN

It appeared as though they had shot their bolt.

But appearances proved most misleading in this case.

Without further waste of time, the Fenwayites started their blazing comeback which demonstrated that they had only begun to fight. Two outs away from their fifth consecutive setback in the opener of the engagement with the Browns, they rallied to tie the score in the

Redfork Tom Tops Greyhound's Card

By GREYHOUND

Redfork Tom looks like the safest wager on the opening card of the Old Harbor Kennel Club at Wonderland Park, Revere, tonight.

The speedy Heigh Ho should give him a rub on form, but Heigh Ho is starting from the eight box, and, for that reason, Redfork Tom is selected as the best bet of the night.

Boston Harbor won from the eight box last Friday, but Heigh Ho is no Boston Harbor.

PARKERS PLAY FIVE TONIGHT

A record throng is anticipated tonight at Fallon Field when Lou Strecker brings his East divisional leading Town Club up from Roslindale to engage the Holy Name A. A. in a Boston Park League feature clash.

Holy Name turned a possible defeat into a tie with Casey Club at Fallon while the Town Club was bowing before the Murphy Club at Brighton.

STRECKER TO HURL

Tonight Stecker will probably assign himself to mound duty while Johnny Grimley is due to start for the other superb suburbanite club in the Twi loop.

St. Alphonsus A. A. will be host to the Murphy Club of Brighton. The Saintes set back the St. Augustine crew last night, whose second place position the Mission Hillers have been bidding for during the past week.

Holy Name ousted the Murphies last week from the Caseys' tail in the West group and a win tonight with the Namers would place them back in the preferred position. Dick Casey's Club will play at Dorchester Town Field tonight with the South Boston Town Club as guests and Ray Coolidge will probably send McDonough to the breach to upset the Caseys.

VISITS CHARLESTOWN

East Boston-Charlestown rivalry will be manifested when the Star of the Sea Club comes over to play St. Catherine's at Barry Field tonight and Bob Hess will be the Noddle Islanders' chucking choice with either Goobey or O'Brien serving for the Saints.

Either Delaney or Musil will be Navy Yard manager Johnny Kirby's selection when the cruiser constructors bid to submerge the St. Augustine Club at South Boston Stadium.

Jeff Podesta Wins Clay Tennis Title

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP) — Gerard (Jeff) Podesta, of Montclair, N. J., emerged for the second successive year with the eastern clay court tennis championship, defeating Marvin Wachman of Chicago, 6—2, 6—3, 6—3 in the final round. Seeded only ninth, Podesta was the only one of the original 12 favorites to reach the semi-finals.

UMP'S STATEMENT EXONERATES FRICK IN JURGES SHINDY

By the Associated Press

If the Cubs or Senators bag Manager Tom Sheehan of Minneapolis for 1940 don't say we didn't tell you . . . A top flight Philly referee came here last week to try to talk Ray Carlen into okaying a Pa. referee for Galento-Nova. No soap . . .

The P. G. A. may eliminate the 36-hole qualifying round and decide future tourneys entirely by match play . . . Reason Ford Frick was so hard on Umpire Magerkurth was this: Magerkurth virtually asked for that $150 fine and 10-day suspension by voluntarily reporting that he spit on Bill Jurges before Jurges spit on him . . . (The boys who have been blasting Frick didn't know all the facts.)

Anyway, Magerkurth was a good sport about it and mebbe the hot stove leaguers will pay his fine . . . And Jurges can thank his stars he wasn't up in the Canadian-American League where the Rev. Harold J. Martin, president, sets a guy down 30 days for assaulting an ump . . . As for Frick, he seen his duty and done it.

Observation Ward: Joe McCarthy is endorsing a headache cure for the magazines as if he ever has one. Haw! . . . The football season opened in the South the other day when Major Neyland of Tennessee issued his annual statement naming Alabama the No. 1 team. Two Haws! . . . (Now let Wallace Wade of Duke come out for North Carolina and the thing will be official) . . . A Lake Villa (Ills.) guy (who had been unlucky all his life) found four four-leaf clovers within three minutes, put his roll on Challedon and mopped up at 14-1 . . . Nice going, Butch.

FLASH: Minneapolis will sell a pitcher or a shortstop to the majors tomorrow . . . Dr. James Naismith, the daddy of basketball, says if they don't stop streamlining his baby they'll take all the fun out of it . . . There is a make-up wizard on the Oklahoma City Times sports pages who ought to be doing his stuff on Broadway . . . Miss Isabelle Schaffer, a New Rochelle artist, has offered to do a life-size painting of Lou Gehrig . . . Bob Pastor is building a home at Saratoga on the 21 acres formerly occupied by the Brook Club, once a red hot gambling joint.

FOOTBALL: the Southwest Conference will be rough-tough from top to bottom . . . Baker U. at Baldwin (Wyana.) is raising 30 acres of student-tended tomaters to feed the football squad . . . Coach Ossie Faudree of the Madill (Okla.) Wildcats is crying his head off because he has only 20 lettermen returning, to say nothing of a half who pitches with either hand and does the century in 10.5 . . . Rice will have a watch charm guard named J. P. Matthews who'll make their hair stand straight up if they can make him study enough to get past the academics.

Johnny Kelley to Wed Mary Knowles, Arlington

Johnny Kelly of Arlington, Boston Marathon champion in 1935 and Olympic star in 1936, finished fourth in the St. Leonard Holy Name Society's 10-mile race yesterday, but he was revealed as No. 1 man in the affections of Mary Knowles of Wyman terrace, Arlington, today.

They were formally engaged a week ago, Johnny told the Boston Evening American, but they waited until the North End race was over before disclosing their plans to wed.

Miss Knowles, a clerk in a Cambridge office, has known Johnny for two years, she said, and might well be termed his "severest critic." Many a night she sent Johnny home extra early, they laughingly related, so that he might be in the best possible training for his gruelling, long-distance races.

In all except the April 19th Marathons she has followed the courses of Johnny's races in an automobile.

"I am more exhausted after a race than Johnny," she said. "He only runs it once, but I have to run it in my mind a thousand times before he crosses the line."

Asked why she was never seen trailing smiling Johnny in the April 19 grind, she answered:

"It's too much of a strain for me."

Connie Mack Missing on Day

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 24 (AP)—It's "Connie Mack Day" at baseball's birthplace today, but the grand old man of the national pastime won't be present.

The aged manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, himself a member of baseball's Hall of Fame located here, is ill. So his sons, Earle and Roy, must carry on as the Athletics become the first major league team to play a game on the old cow pasture that became the birthplace of the game.

The A's were to meet the Penn Athletic Club in an annual game usually reserved for Philadelphia but transferred here as a part of baseball's celebration of its 100th birthdate.

Australians Prove Serious Cup Threat

It was a great day for the Australians out at the Longwood Bowl tennis tourney.

The Land Down Under's veteran courtmen, poker-face Adrian Quist and giant Jack Crawford, simply captured all the laurels in the final and championship round of competition.

Coming up with some of the most brilliant tennis of his busy court life, the quick-moving Quist, rated by many as the foremost amateur performer in the world since Don Budge turned "pro," completely outplayed California's handsome blond Gene Mako, ranked as Uncle Sam's No. 3 player, in three quick sets, 6–1, 6–2 and 6–4.

And, in the doubles' championship, Quist and Crawford brought further honor to their country when Mako and Frankie Parker lost to them by default.

Following his one-sided loss to Quist, Mako complained of a back and shoulder ache and informed Bowl officials he would be unable to team up with Parker in their set-to with the Australians.

Later, when a Longwood Cricket Club physician examined the coast netman, he diagnosed his condition as "a bad cold in the back."

Cold or no cold, Mako never could have beaten the Quist he played on the Sabbath. The 27-year-old Australian was truly sensational in winning the 47th annual Bowl championship.

As a result of Quist's easy triumph yesterday, Australia's chances of taking the Davis Cup away from the United States later this summer appear quite rosy.

It doesn't seem possible that Uncle Sam's top-flight representatives, Bobby Riggs, Frankie Parker, Elwood Cooke, Gene Mako, Gardner Mulloy or Wayne Sabin, could upset Quist, if he continues to display the style of tennis he has just put on at Brookline.

SOX HOME FOR LONG STAY

from an exclusive Yankee affair into a two-cornered and possibly triangled struggle, as our runners-up head back to pennant-conscious Boston.

They still refuse to make any flag claims or predictions, these surging Sox, but don't let them hear you scoff at their chances.

Their belief that the Yanks will crack under pressure has been strengthened by the happenings in Chicago the past three days and they envision themselves climbing much closer to the champs if not catching and passing them, before they fall any further back than they are at present.

CLEAR SAILING AHEAD

And, there's every reason why they should be that optimistic.

The most difficult part of their schedule is behind them. They have but one long road trip remaining, while they'll have two lengthy home stays. And they still have ten games to play with the Yanks, whom they've conquered eight times in 12 tries to date.

True, they haven't done any too well at home thus far. An outstanding road club with the almost unbelievable away-from-home record of 34 wins and but 13 defeats, they've managed to win only 18 out of 35 at the Fens up to this writing.

But, the fact that they haven't got started on their own back yard as yet merely adds to their confidence. They figure they're bound to have two glorious home stands after their two very mediocre stays.

ALL HEROES

And they will, too, if they continue to flash the brand of ball they displayed on the recent trek. There's no beating that.

Unless it be Manager Joe Cronin, the $250,000 shortstop who proved a million dollar leader on the trails no Sox outshone another in compiling the remarkable road record. It was strictly a club triumph, with every man on the squad coming through like a champion, particularly the oft-maligned pitchers.

Jimmy Foxx hit over .400 in the 23 games in addition to bringing his home run total up to 19 to take the major league lead in that department. Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Lou Finney, Johnny Peacock and Jim Tabor all hit better than .300.

In 11 of the 23 games, the supporting cast played errorless ball.

Emerson Dickman, a forgotten man among the flingers before the trip started, turned in four wins in teh relief role. So did Joe Heving. Denny Galehouse chipped in with three triumphs. Freddie Ostermuller and Jack Wilson each contributed two decisions, while Mose Grove and Elden Auker each came through with one.

GREAT RELIEF WORK

Heving and Dickman it was who brought the jaunt to a blazing climax in St. Louis yesterday.

Relieving "Woody" Rich in the fifth frame of the opening game with the sacks filled and nobody out, Heving finished up by hurling scoreless ball as the Hose hammered out a 13 to 5 verdict.

Dickman, relieving Jake Wade in the second inning of the nightcap, didn't allow a run the rest of the way as he steered his mates to an 11 to 3 win.

Bobby Doerr got seven hits, including his eighth homer, scored six runs and drove in four tallies during the matinee.

Teddy Williams got three hits in the first game, hit homer No. 16 in the night-cap and drove in five runs for the day to bring his major league leading R. B. I. total to 84. Foxx hit No. 19.

It deserves a vociferous welcome this "team that came back" when it gets back tonight.

Pets Tackle Springfield

Sofeball at the Garden Thursday evening will feature three teams which are foreign to Boston, although only one of them has not appeared on the depot floor this summer.

The Metropolitan League clash will be the first between the Reboboth Milkmaids from Little Rhody and the Home Service Laundry Girls of Worcester. Both of these clubs have played here in Boston, but they have never faced each other. Both teams have defeated the Gardenias once, yet both have lost on their next Hub appearance.

Bees Start Long Trip With Cinci Night Tilt

road for Stengel's staff is going on high again, MacFayden, Shoffner, Turner, Fette and Posedel all in stride.

Pitching, it seems, will have to carry the Bees over the hurdles on the road. If they can regain the defensive strength which dwindled when Miller broke his leg, the B's Hivemen may surprise them all along the line and return in mid-August up with the first four. No club in the loop has outclassed the Bees, the Pirates, Cubs and Cards having no noticeable edge.

STICKS WITH SISTI

The Reds are something else again yet the Reds got nothing better than a 50-50 slice of the four games they played here during the home stand just ended, losing a Sunday double-header and then winning two singletons against the Miller-less Swarm.

Stengel intends to go along with the 19-year-old Sisti at third base and many of the 16,000 who saw Sibby play two full games yesterday agree that maybe Casey is correct.

While Sisti's error cost Shoffner a win in the first game and he struck out with the bases jammed in the second, the Italian youngster from Buffalo seems to have the spring and the speed which lead to stardom, and the qualifications to be labelled a good prospect.

PRAISED BY EXPERTS

He was in a very tough spot, being closely surveyed by 32,000 critical eyes, yet Sisti carried home the winning run in the 8th inning of the nightcap and was playing third base under less strain and with much more composure in the second clash.

Sisti, highly praised by Joe Cronin and other experts, hasn't played third for two seasons, being employed at second at the Hartford farm, and you may see something startling in the way of third basemen if the Buffalo kid picks up as expected on the road.
